Not Represented At Japanese Peace Treaty Meeting Russia Asserts

(BULLETIN)
WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—The Russian Embassy complained today that the Soviet nation was not represented at the State Department meeting when ten nations were informed of U. S. plans to proceed with a Japanese peace treaty.

The State Department conference of nations which participated in the war against the Japanese took place July 11.

The original announcement from the State Department listed the Soviet Embassy as having a representative at the July 11 meeting.

The meeting was held in the office of assistance secretary of state for occupied areas, John H. Hilling, and director of the office of the far eastern affairs, John Carter Vincent.

The statement denying the presence of a Soviet representative there was issued by Benjamin N. Matchavarian, press director of the Embassy.

Pa Newc Observes

Several of the city and district churches will have visiting speakers in the pulpit on Sunday. A number of the ministers have already begun their annual vacation periods and will be absent for the next three or four Sundays.

Pa Newc notes that quite a number of Canadian pennies are in circulation in this city at the present time. Evidently vacationers returning from Canada are bringing the coins of our neighboring country to the city. Several have been received in change recently.

At least one lady in the city can boast of a dress that is made of material that no other woman in the city can duplicate. An East Side lady recently received several yards of hand made goods from Colombia, S. A., to be made into a dress. The pattern of the material depicts the coffee bush and its flowers, a scene common to the South American country.

At times, local and state police are forced to commandeer private vehicles in their enforcement of crime. Two offenders of the law were very much surprised on Friday afternoon when a local milkman's truck drove up along side of their car and a state police officer calmly stepped out to investigate the activities of the men. Unable to get his own car started the officer called the nearby milkman into action.

Mrs. W. J. Ayers, 1106 West Washington street, reports to Pa Newc that the nice-sized buckeye tree in front of her house has developed a large crack which emits a fluid almost constantly. The unnatural condition seemingly is slowly killing the tree and Mrs. Ayers is seeking a remedy for the situation which might spare the life of the tree.

Mrs. Clarence Criswell of Falls avenue, Highland Heights, reports that their part Angora cat had a kitten born one week ago on Friday the 11th, and was around as usual. Friday the 18th, three more kittens were born to her. The one born a week ago had but little hair on when born, but is now O.K.

Nearly 5,000 On Refugee Ship Are Deported

JERUSALEM, July 19.—(INS)—Palestine authorities today reported most of the 4,554 uncertified Jewish immigrants who were aboard the "European Exodus 1947" when a 50-man British naval boarding party seized that blockade-runner in a violent battle off Haifa yesterday.

Three British ferry ships set out from Haifa with the refugees who were bound for detention camps on Cyprus. The immigrants reached their "promised land" only a matter of hours later.

Behind them, the deportees left three compatriots who died in the sea fracas which resulted also in scores of injuries. One of those slain was the American first mate of the Exodus.

Twenty-eight of the injured, including 17 women and a child, were detained in a Haifa hospital. Nearly a score of these were in serious condition.

High Production Will Continue

Record Employment Is Also Forecast, Also Rise In Cost Of Living

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—The nation's economic outlook today was for continued high production, record employment and a rise in the cost of living.

This was the analysis of Ewan Clague, commissioner of the bureau of labor statistics, who reported that "downward pressures" of last spring have been eased.

Clague forecast continuance of civilian employment at the present record-breaking level of slightly over 60 million jobs through September and said it "may go even higher" in the summer months.

A decline is foreseen in the fall when agricultural work drops off and students return to the classroom.

The BLS official said a "favorable aspect" of the present picture is the capacity output of steel and coal which assures continuous availability of basic raw materials. He said production stability and efficiency should improve as a result.

POCOMOKE CITY, Md., July 19.—(INS)—Mrs. Laura Wilkins Laughrey, attractive divorcee, was held by police today in connection with the slaying of her ex-husband, Timothy, at her parents' home near Pocomoke City.

State's Attorney E. MacMaster Duer did not lodge any charge against the 27-year-old mother of a seven-year-old daughter pending an investigation.

He said a preliminary probe showed Laughrey was shot down by a "number" of bullets just as he entered the home of his ex-wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Archie Wilkins.

Romanian Exiles Declares Country Forced Into Action

PARIS, July 19.—(INS)—A group of Romanian statesmen in exile declared today that their country and all eastern Europe support the Marshall plan but outside pressure prevents them from participating.

In a note to the 16 nations co-operating in the plan for European economic cooperation, the exiles headed by former Minister of Foreign Affairs Grigore Gafencu, said: "The official Romania that refused to participate in the Paris conference is not the real Romania. The government imposed on the nation has been compelled once more to act against the will of the Romanian people."

Probe Rumors Of Japanese Rice Riots

TOKYO, July 19.—(INS)—Wide-spread rumors of rice riots on the island of Hokkaido were ordered investigated today by the Japanese home ministry.

A ministry official said it is believed that the riot rumors grew from "unusually loud" rice demonstrations and that no actual rioting has occurred.

Rice rations for inhabitants of Hokkaido, northernmost of Japan's home islands, are far behind those being distributed in other sections of the country.

American intelligence officials in Tokyo said they had not received any riot reports.

Tax Reduction Veto Sustained By Senate

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
WASHINGTON, July 19.—House Majority Leader Halleck (R) Ind. forecast today that the GOP majority will make "another try" for tax reductions in the next session of Congress.

One Republican leader said there was even a "possibility" that the January 1, 1948 tax-cut bill successfully vetoed by President Truman will be re-introduced before Congress adjourns on July 26.

Senate Supports Veto
Mr. Truman's second tax veto in 31 days was overridden by the House but was sustained in the Senate by support of the measure to add strength to the President's victory. The vote was 57 to 36.

Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., chairman of the House Ways and Means committee, said he would not re-offer his bill. But Halleck declared: "My view is that we Republicans (Continued on Page Two)

Against Revival Of Germany Able To Wage New War

LONDON, July 19.—(INS)—British Foreign Secretary Bevin announced today that Great Britain will not countenance revival of a Germany capable of waging a new war.

In a speech to a miners' rally at Morpeth in Northumberland, Bevin referred to French fears that the Marshall plan and other proposals for European recovery might result in reviving the Ruhr valley as a dangerous industrial potential.

"He said: 'We in this country too must look at our securities. 'We cannot face another Germany of that character, and we are not going to'."

Bevin expressed hope that the United States "will never withdraw from Europe again", and added: "I sincerely trust that even yet differences and suspicions might be removed with Soviet Russia... and that we will find a way to unite the United States and Russia in a common endeavor for the uplift of humanity as a whole."

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—One and a third billion dollars in relief funds, including 400 million dollars to implement the Truman doctrine in Greece and Turkey, were expected today to receive expeditious handling in the senate following overwhelming house approval.

They were included in a supplemental appropriations bill for the 1948 fiscal year which the house passed last night with a quick burst of speed after leaders had anticipated hours of debate and controversy.

The measure also contains 332 million of the 350 million dollars requested by President Truman for relief in war-devastated countries. The house rejected by voice an amendment by Rep. Dirksen (R) (Continued on Page Two)

ENROUTE WITH GOV. DEWEY, July 19.—(INS)—New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was enroute today to Bozeman, Mont., where he will meet with northwest Republican leaders from Wyoming, Idaho, Montana and the state of Washington.

The meeting, like others, which have preceded it in the last 15 days since Dewey left Albany, N. Y., is linked with his unavowed drive for delegates to the Republican national convention next year.

Reports that Dewey's talk with Washington state Republicans might lead to a vice-presidential boom for movie star Eric Johnston still persisted. However, it was not believed that any commitments would be made at this time.

Army And Navy Unification Bill Now Up To House

Senate Passed Legislation Is Expected To Get Approval Of House

TRUMAN MAY GET MEASURE NEXT WEEK

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Years of controversy and debate over whether the Army and the Navy should be combined were expected to culminate in House approval today of a slightly-revised Senate-passed unification bill.

The house leadership slated the measure for passage this afternoon. It was the last major piece of "must" legislation to be considered by the lower chamber before the July 26 adjournment date toward which congress is driving.

Soon To Reach Truman
Following house passage, the legislation will probably go to a conference committee where the differences between the house and senate measures will be ironed out. Some time next week, the bill creating a single department of national security will go to President Truman for his signature.

It will represent a great victory for the chief executive, who has pushed the legislation continuously, often at times when it seemed it had no chance of enactment. It will represent a great victory also for the army air forces, which obtains a status equal to that of the army and navy. It will also represent a victory for Rep. Wadsworth (R) N. Y., who has fought for the proposal for more than a score of years in both senate and house.

Britons Reminded U. S. Aid To Europe Boosts U. S. Taxes

LONDON, July 19.—(INS)—Anthony Eden, former foreign secretary, reminded Britons today that dollar aid to Europe means higher American taxation.

He added the warning: "Our task is to convince the American people who alone can decide what further assistance is to be given Europe that, in making these dollars available they are spending them for a good purpose."

The dapper opposition leader added that he does not believe the labor government is doing everything possible toward putting "our own house in order" as regards the gap between exports and imports.

Johannes Steel Is Brother-In-Law Of Secretary Royall

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—Mr. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, War Department public relations chief, said today he had "discussed" with Undersecretary of War Kenneth Royall the latter's relationship with Johannes Steel, writer and radio commentator. Steel is Royall's brother-in-law.

Royall was nominated by President Truman yesterday to succeed Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, whose resignation is effective July 24.

Steel has been named in and out of Congress as having strong Leftist sympathies. A Moscow publication has listed him among Americans favorable to the Russian cause. The commentator was readily accepted by Soviet officials as a visitor to Moscow during the foreign ministers conference early this year, although applications of a number of other radio and newsmen were rejected.

Statement Issued
Parks issued the following statement:

"In answer to queries from the press, Maj. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, GSC, chief, public relations, War Department, stated that he had discussed with Under Secretary of War Royall his relationship with Mr. Johannes Steel.

"Mr. Steel married Mr. Royall's half-sister several years ago. Mr. Royall's relations with Mr. Steel have been exclusively family contacts.

He has not discussed governmental political or national policies with him. The last time that he recalls seeing Mr. Steel was at the 80th birthday dinner of Mr. Royall's mother last year and at the Christmas dinner, also at his mother's. "The fact that Mr. Steel is well-known and has been commented on in the press previously."

CALLS FOR NEW PARTY
NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—Adolf A. Berle Jr., state chairman of the Liberal party of New York state, today called for a national Liberal party—"preferably a first party."

He wrote, in an article appearing in the current issue of the Liberal, official organ of the party:

"There is a strong feeling that the general public in New York and other states needs better political service than it is getting from either the Republican or the Democratic organization. If proof were needed the disgust at the record of the 80th Congress to date would supply plenty."

will make another try for tax reductions in the next session of Congress, and we are going to overhaul the entire hodge-podge tax code."

Bitterly Accuses Truman
Millikin bitterly accused President Truman of not having a "decent respect" for the right of Congress to control revenues. His Senate speech was one of the sharpest attacks on a president since 1944 when President Roosevelt was denounced for his tax bill veto of that year.

The vehemence of Millikin's charge surprised even some of his own GOP colleagues.

The finance chairman already has served notice that as far as he is concerned a third tax cut effort would be made this fall if there is a special session to deal with foreign policy problems.

President Truman's veto of the four billion dollar tax relief bill reached the House at noon Friday. That body promptly voted 299 to 108-27 more votes than needed to override the veto.

Senate Vote Shift
Sent at once to the Senate, the vetoed bill was debated for almost 4½ hours with Republicans conceding their defeat in advance. On the roll call, the Senate sustained the veto with three more votes than expected. A vote of 60 to 33 had been forecast.

Sens. Alben (R) Vt., Tydings (D) Md., and Unstead (D) N. C., who voted for the GOP bill when it passed the Senate Monday, shifted and upheld the President.

The legislation, which originally was designed to become effective July 1, 1947, would have given taxpayers cuts next January ranging from 30 per cent in the lowest bracket to 10½ per cent in the highest.

'Political Veto'
House Speaker Martin (R) Mass. called the action a "political veto" and said it means less take-home pay for millions of workers, a stifling of business incentive and possibly the "loss of hundreds of thousands of jobs."

Sen. Taft (R) Ohio, GOP policy chairman, said he feared the veto "postpones a tax cut for the people for a long time." He forecast that there will be a large surplus in the treasury "which will be distinctly inflationary."

A practice will be held at 1 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon July 23. Rural Life Sunday will be observed on July 27 at 8 p. m. A candlelight service has been arranged by the 4-H girls.

RATIFIES TRANSFER

Jet Type Aircraft May Be Assigned To National Guard

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—Assignment of jet type aircraft to Pennsylvania's Air National Guard units was forecast today by Col. I. V. Irvin, of the war department's National Guard bureau.

He told delegates to the 28th annual encampment at Harrisburg that the assignment was scheduled to be made as promptly as possible after the bureau had received the aircraft.

"As the latest equipment and methods are developed they will be made available to the National Guard," Irvin asserted.

Air weapons now used by the Air National Guard, he said, included P-51, 2-26 and P-47 equipment as well as radar.

The war department's overall assignment for Pennsylvania's National Guard, he added, embraced 40,876 officers and men.

PITT GETS NAVY GRANT FOR JET FUEL RESEARCH

Drs. Gebbard Stegeman, Leo S. Mason, and W. E. Wallace will work on the improvement of a "more powerful fuel, and for alloys which will withstand the terrific heat of jet engines."

They will work with new metallic compounds which are so active that they can not be exposed.

HOUSE APPROVES HUGE FUND FOR FOREIGN RELIEF

Ill. to bar relief to nations refusing to participate in Secretary of State Marshall's European rehabilitation program. However, it upheld its appropriations committee, which eliminated eighteen million dollars from the relief funds.

Will Shift Funds
Although the committee did not specify the "certain countries" it meant, it was learned that the state department had allotted fifteen million dollars of the funds for Poland and three millions for Hungary, two Soviet-dominated nations which declined to attend the Paris conference on the Marshall plan. The money will be spent in Austria, Italy, Trieste, Greece and China.

The bill also provides $71,024,000 for American participation in the international refugee organization of the seventy-three and a half million requested by President Truman. Five hundred and fifty million dollars was provided for army government and relief in the occupied areas of Germany, Austria, Japan and Korea.

NOT REPRESENTED AT JAPAN PEACE TREATY MEETING RUSSIA SAYS

Union of Soviet Socialist Republics was not present among those summoned to the meeting held by General Hildring.

United States officials reacted quickly to the Soviet charge and made clear that, despite the absence of a representative, the embassy as well as the foreign office in Moscow had been advised of the United States project simultaneously with the other powers.

In a formal statement the department said that the embassy statement had been called to the department's attention.

Soviet Invited
"The Soviet embassy was invited at the same time and in the same manner as the other nine diplomatic representatives to attend this meeting but a Soviet representative did not actually appear."

"As soon as it became apparent that there would be no Soviet representative at the meeting a copy of the same proposals as were presented to the representatives at the meeting was sent to the Soviet Embassy."

"Furthermore, at approximately the same time that the meeting in General Hildring's office took place the same proposals were laid before the Soviet foreign office in Moscow by the American ambassador there."

"It is thus clear that all ten governments were consulted simultaneously."

PORT DIX, N. J., July 19.—(INS)—Pvt. Edward F. Ryan, of 17 Burton street, Lowell, Mass., was identified today as the soldier who was shot down yesterday by a guard while trying to escape from a work detail at Port Dix. He died within a few minutes.

Port officials said Ryan, who enlisted last May 6, had been tried by a court martial July 11 for being AWOL, and was confined to the post stockade pending a decision review by higher authorities.

The provost marshal also said that Ryan had been AWOL three times and had broken arrest once between May 19 and his eventual confinement on June 18. An official report said the soldier ignored shouted commands from the guard, and several preliminary warning shots.

Denies Position Offered
Forrestal denied at a new conference Wednesday that he has been offered the position of secretary of national defense. In fact, he declared that he has never discussed the matter with the White House.

However, high sources in Washington insist that Forrestal has the inside track to the job. A few other names have been mentioned for the post but Forrestal has figured strongly in all speculation.

Low flying aircraft again strafed the spring rebel units which apparently were trying to regroup in the mountains between Ioannina and Konitsa—two prime objectives of their abortive assault earlier in the week.

The guerrilla offensive was known to have been extremely costly. Known casualties include more than 800, with more than 300 of these listed as dead and as many more captured.

Officials have placed the so-called "invasion army" at around 3,500 men. Thus the casualty ratio would approximate 25 per cent.

TO IMPORT NEWSPRINT
WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—The House today passed and sent to the Senate a bill authorizing the importation into the country of newsprint paper rolls 15 inches in width without payment of tariff duties.

Under existing law, non-duty rolls must be at least 16 inches wide. During the war, this provision was suspended, but went into effect again last July.

The measure was sponsored by Rep. Bronn (R) Ohio, chairman of the special House Newsprint committee.

Harvest Situation Critical In West

DENVER, July 19.—(INS)—Steps to avoid threatened loss of thousands of bushels of wheat in Colorado were underway today by all affected agencies at the request of Gov. Lee Knous.

Officials became concerned when Earl E. Pollock, secretary of the public utilities commission, warned that the lack of freight cars in southeastern Colorado was forcing growers to dump some of the record crop on the ground.

Pollock predicted the situation would become more critical when the harvest reached the northeastern part of the state.

L. J. Carter, commission employee, reported that almost every farm in the Springfield area, the state's one-time dust bowl, has piled wheat on the ground and most of it unprotected from weather.

Pollock said trucking of some of the wheat to granaries as far away as Kansas City was a partial solution. Railroad officials said they would do their best to alleviate the boxcar shortage.

W. C. Sweinhart, agriculture department official, said the situation was aggravated by the fact most elevators in the region were full even before the harvest began.

Washington Calling

Senator Morse's Role Lonely, Useful

WASHINGTON, July 19.—A little by-play occurred in the senate recently that caused some merriment on the Democratic side of the aisle. It threw into sudden relief a feud that has been the occasion for fireworks through most of the session now drawing to a close. With one bit of business completed, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, in the chair, said spontaneously, "The senator from Michigan is recognized." He meant, of course, his colleague from Michigan, Sen. Homer Ferguson.

But far from demanding recognition, Ferguson was not even in the senate chamber. The senator demanding the floor was Wayne Morse of Oregon. Finally, Vandenberg gave the nod to Morse.

Behind Play

Behind this little play was the determining of the Republican majority to silence the party's Oregon rebel, Ferguson should have been on the floor. He just happened to miss his cue.

Morse wanted to urge immediate passage of his bill increasing subsistence allowances to veterans. The bill would raise the allowance for veterans in school from $65 to $75 a month for single veterans, from $90 to $105 for married veterans without children, and to $120 for veterans with one or more children. The measure had been reported out of the senate committee on labor and public welfare with only two dissenting votes.

Promptly Sen. Robert A. Taft, the shepherd of the Republican majority, was on his feet to point out that the Morse bill was only one of 10 which the Republican policy committee has put on a "must" list.

"If every senator is going to insist that a particular bill in which he is interested shall be considered first," said Taft, "after we have promised him, if you please, and have announced that we are going to take it up, there can be no order in the procedure of senate. It seems to me that first we must necessarily finish action on the appropriation bills."

OLD MEN AND MAIDENS

Old men are like maidens in one way. Their muscles get so stiff that a boy can play ball all day and get away with it. If an old man plays ball he will be all stiffened up afterwards.

Girls have trouble sometimes after gym classes or ball games. They feel stiff and sore. Their muscles do not seem to be so well adapted to such exercise.

Good playground teachers know the difference between boys and girls. They choose the games and exercises to suit each person. They do not try to suit the person to the game.

Granddad can walk ten miles a day if he takes his time. Sally can have a good time playing the right way.

They Say

WASHINGTON—W. Randolph Burgess, vice chairman of the National City bank, New York: "There may seem to be a certain contradiction in a program of reducing taxes at a time when debt reduction is so demanding, but we can do both if we control spending."

WASHINGTON—Assistant Secretary of State Willard B. Thorp, in commenting on the Italian situation: "Our basic objective has not been changed; if anything, we are today more resolved than before to render assistance to Italy and the Italian government."

HASINGS, England—British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin: "I have been told that I was leading the world to Munich... but that since Czechoslovakia went to Moscow... I don't want to divide Europe or any part of the world. Nor do I want to divide Europe from America."

WASHINGTON—Kermit Eby, CIO director of research and education: "We believe the security of the farm reflects the security of the city worker and the prosperity of the city worker means the prosperity of the farm worker; they will rise or fall together."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN FIGHTING IS DANGEROUS

A great many children are injured, some seriously, from fighting with sticks and stones. Some eyes are lost thereby.

Beginning with the toddler, teach him not to fight with sticks and stones. See that he does not throw such at any person or animal. Punish him effectively on the first offense and always thereafter.

But should your child not defend himself? Yes; he should even be encouraged to fight in self-defense with his bare hands. Let him see that it is not cowardly to retreat when others use weapons against him, while it is cowardly to throw stones even in self-defense. If he will wait, the other child who has thrown a stone at him will be near enough to be punished in a manly fashion. That will be the proper time to make the aggressor sorry for his cowardly act.

The First Stone

The child who throws the first stone may cause another child to throw back at him and with more force and precision. I wish teachers would be strict in making it a serious offense to fight with sticks and stones. On the other hand, I wish that when they see a youngster standing up in self-defense with his bare hands they would commend the defendant instead of punishing him as so many do.

May there not be some educational value from throwing stones? Yes; if at a target or into a large body of water. If, in other words, nobody is endangered.

Bow And Arrow

Some good skill may also be acquired from making a bow and arrow and shooting with it. But children, especially those under ten or twelve, are hardly safe with a bow and arrow except under strict supervision. And how we parents wish our children have a BB gun when not supervised constantly by an adult in its use would be heavily fined. It is rarely the child with the bow and arrow or the BB gun that is the victim. Rather it's the innocent bystander. Some adults have only (Continued on Page Seven)

THAT HUMAN ELEMENT

A spot check of aging automobiles by Flint police showed 62 out of 78 to be unsafe for driving.

That's startling, but it shouldn't be permitted to cloud the fact that the unsafe driver is still a greater menace than the rickety car. A careful man can go a long way in the jalopy if he has the sense to take full account of its frailties, and not get into trouble.

But no car is so sound that it can render the traffic idiot harmless. Unfortunately, there isn't any spot check that can show the mental equivalent to the bad brake, or rickety steering gear.—Detroit Free Press.

From Me To You

By MESEKALL

In answer to our question on Commies of last week... we find the following from John Weyer.

Congratulations my friend, for letting us know. Just how you feel about the commies—Uncle Joe. You were right when you warned the people of our land. That Russia will soon have the upper hand. Unless we as a nation, the best in the world, lead the parade with our own flag unfurled. What happens in New York City I'm sorry to say, is duplicated in all of our land today. Unless we act quickly, it may be too late. Stop them now, not tomorrow, it doesn't pay to wait.

If the people's nerves would just settle down... and we all are on edge... no one can tell what is going to happen tomorrow that will cause hundreds of people to suffer... and unnecessarily. We are of course talking about man made trouble. Sometimes we firmly believe above when we say commie. If we people become so fed up with unsettled nerves which cause men to follow the leader into destructive and paralyzing strikes then some smooth talker will come along... with a commie idea... and slip it over. We can't afford to be blinded for a moment... no matter how tired we might think we are... This United States of America is the cream of the world... Don't forget that... why else would other powers want us so badly that they would spend millions in spy salaries... which is happening today. The United States doesn't support such tactics.

As we were saying... if the nerves would calm down... it would seem almost like pre-war times. Packard came out yesterday with a brand new automobile. New from front to back... and it's very clever looking and smart too. Given half a chance this year... could be a great year... But not many people want to give it a chance... These first six months haven't been too smooth.

Words Of Wisdom

Women are self-denying and unselfish; men are self-indulgent and outspoken; and this is the key to a thousand double misunderstandings, for good women are just as stupid in misunderstanding men as good men are in misunderstanding women. —Charles Reade.

The World and the Mud Puddles

WHAT'S CAUSING ALL THIS?

There seems to be an organized program fostered by New Dealers and other prominent men in organized politics to promote a depression in these United States, and by accomplishing their fell purpose they could hope to win the 1948 election.

For several months we have been reading warnings of a general decline in production and employment. Some of these statements may be inspired by a desire to bring about lower prices for commodities; some in the hope of forcing further wage increases and some by those interested in the stock market, thereby hoping to profit as did the "shorts" in 1929 and the ensuing years.

Adverse Effect?

There is the possibility that continued high prices will sooner or later develop consumer resistance which will have an adverse effect on production and consequently on employment. There is the possibility also that further wage boost would help to stimulate retarded purchasing power. And there is finally the possibility that some of the air must be let out of certain inflated values.

The country as a whole is in pretty good shape, in spite of the existing inflation. Prices are up, but so are wages. The accumulated demand for scores of industry's products is far from satisfied; millions of dollars are waiting to buy automobiles, houses, household equipment, vacation travel is reported at the peak and tourists are finding accommodations almost as hard to obtain as during the war boom.

Nothing could be more disastrous to the country than to mix politics with our economics by unjustified croaking about an "inevitable" depression. In the old days, this sort of propaganda was called "calamity howling." It has no justification in the present national picture.

SHOULD A WOMAN STAND FOR A WOMAN?

Question: I, being a woman, am never sure whether I should stand when a woman stops to speak at my table in a restaurant.

Answer: She should remain seated, unless she is very young and the visitor is elderly. If there are men at the table they, of course, should rise and remain standing until the visitor, whether young or old leaves or sits down.

Question: My favorite nephew's engagement has been announced to a young lady in another city. I have met her only once. Since I am unable to call on her, should I write to her?

Answer: Yes. Write a letter extending your good wishes and welcoming her to the family.

Question: Is it correct to take a spoonful of tea or coffee to test its temperature?

Answer: After the beverage is stirred the spoon should be placed on the saucer. The cup should be lifted to the lips to test its contents.

Question: Is it permissible to have candles on a formal luncheon table?

Answer: Candles should not be on a lunch or breakfast table, unless the dining room is so dark that artificial light is necessary.

Question: At what age may a child wear mourning?

Answer: Not under twelve years. A child from that age to sixteen should wear mourning only for a parent and it should not be all black; but for a girl should consist of only a black hair ribbon or sash; for a boy, a black tie or sleeve band. In both cases, it should be removed after the funeral.

Question: Should dishes be removed as each guest finishes eating? From which side should they be taken?

Answer: The dishes of a course should not be removed until all at the table have finished eating. They should be removed from the right side of each guest. They are, of course, served from the left side.

MUSTN'T TOUCH

"Mustn't touch!" the mother said, Shaking then her lovely head, When I stretched my hands to clutch

Pretty things I wanted much; Pushed them far beyond my reach, Self-denial me to teach.

Fragile splendors, one and all, Ruined oft by children small. Cherished things on shelves and stands—

Much to frail for little hands— Placed, for safety, out of reach, "Mustn't touch!" the warning speech.

So it was; and so today, Even though the hair is gray, Joys to all must be denied. Life puts many things aside— Out of reach, though wanted much—

With this warning: "Mustn't touch." (Copyright 1947, Edgar A. Guest)

Great Game Of Politics

By FRANK R. KENT

(Copyright 1947, By The Baltimore Sun)

WASHINGTON, July 19.—The violence with which Mr. James A. Farley is being assailed by the "close friends" of the late Mr. Roosevelt, both literary and political, for his reminiscences of that gentleman, is a measure of the difficulty they are experiencing in establishing Mr. Roosevelt's "place in history" as the peer of Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln, entitled to have his birthplace called a "shrine," which carries more or less the idea of divinity, and a monument erected to him taller than any to the first President.

INASMUCH as most of these "close friends," but for the Roosevelt favor, would have remained in the impecunious obscurity from which he lifted them, it is natural they should rush to the defense of the man to whom they owed so much. But their testimony is not convincing and their denunciation makes an indelible dent. The likeness to Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln is unrecognizable. With the passage of time their heroes become shabbier. In the light of undisputed evidence it is impossible longer to regard him as a high-minded, unselfish or truthful man.

No denial of the important facts is made by the "close friends." Their technique is to abuse those who present them as ghouls or liars; to ignore the salient points and dwell upon the immaterial details. For example, they bitterly denounce Mr. Farley for quoting Mrs. Roosevelt as saying that her husband could never relax "except with his social equals." Their effort is to make it appear that Mr. Farley's statements must all be dismissed as malicious because he and Mrs. Farley were offended at not being treated as "social equals"—which, of course, is complete nonsense. It is relatively unimportant, so far as history is concerned, whether Mr. Roosevelt was or was not a social snob; whether his wife thought him one or not, or whether the Farleys felt hurt at being patronized or not.

WHAT is historically important is Mr. Farley's flat statement that Mr. Roosevelt told him that under no conditions would he be a candidate for a third term; that almost immediately after that he began making arrangements to run, and that from that time on he actively connived in the "draft" movement, which could not have made any progress at all but for the weight of the White House which he unscrupulously used to the limit. No "close friend" has challenged these statements. Nor will one. There is altogether too much corroborative evidence. Made so unequivocally by Mr. Farley, who was in position to know the truth and whose reputation for veracity is vastly greater than that of any of his critics, this statement has to be accepted. Thus, it becomes undeniably clear that the Roosevelt 1940 "draft" was a fraud and the Roosevelt campaign of that year one of complete false pretense.

AND just as Mr. Roosevelt's "close friends" ignore this devastating charge and about loudly that "Franklin was not a snob," so too, do they utterly avoid any reference to the close co-operation of Elliott Roosevelt and his father in the $600,000—and more—which Elliott borrowed from various rich men who would not have loaned him a dollar but for his father. Certainly, no one interested in Mr. Roosevelt's "place in history" can disregard the sworn testimony that Mr. Roosevelt, personally, over the telephone and in other ways, made it possible for Elliott to obtain these loans; that later he called in Mr. Jesse Jones, then head of the RFC, and, telling him that Elliott was in "a mess," asked him to "straighten it out"; that Mr. Jones settled the loans for 2 cents on the dollar; that he recovered Elliott's radio stock which was put up as collateral, turned this stock over to the President, who then gave it to Elliott's divorced wife.

THOUGH the stock, at one time almost worthless, recovered its full value, Elliott's creditors got nothing beyond their 2 cents on the dollar and Mr. Jones never has been paid the $4,500 he put up out of his own pocket to make the settlement. In other words, it was a swindle. These facts, which have been repeatedly printed and are a matter of record, have never been denied by Elliott, by any member of the Roosevelt family or any of his "close friends." Yet, they constitute as unsavory a White House chapter as there is in American history. It, of course, reflects upon Elliott, but the reflection is far greater on his father. For, while Elliott was the son of the President and because of that fact borrowed money he could not repay, his father, the President of the United States, sanctioned and connived in it.

BUT the Farley charges and the Elliott transactions together do not equal in force the indictment made by Mr. B. M. Baruch in a recent address at Washington before the War College. Without mentioning Mr. Roosevelt's name, Mr. Baruch asserted that the refusal to be guided by the experience of the first World War "had cost many American lives and numerous casualties." One example was the inexcusable eighteen-month delay in putting the War Production Board under a single directing head. If there were space, this indictment could be buttressed and amplified. It is a deeply serious charge. In effect, it means that through stubbornness, stupidity and politics, Mr. Roosevelt was responsible for the deaths of many American soldiers and the wounding of many more.

COMING from Mr. Baruch, who supported Mr. Roosevelt four times for President, this is not a charge any historian can disregard. The reason it seems worth while reciting these facts now is that the present virulent disparagement of Mr. Farley coincides with the campaigns at Warm Springs and elsewhere to erect other "shrines" and other monuments to Mr. Roosevelt, the idea of which is to put him on a pedestal beside Washington, Jefferson and Lincoln. He does not belong there. He is not the size, and the "close friends" would be wise to abandon the effort. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The spectre of a strong Germany, traditional bogeyman of Europe for decades past, threw its dark shadows across the Paris Marshall plan conference and the first rift in this uniquely harmonious meeting occurred.

France reacted swiftly to Dutch and Italian proposals that the industry and resources of western Germany be incorporated into a long-range program of European revival and rehabilitation.

The suggestions fell directly into line with Secretary of State Marshall's policy. They coincided also with Gen. Lucius D. Clay's considered decision on the future of Germany, for this deeply-experienced statesman-soldier is firmly convinced that Germany can be made to produce industrially and still be prevented from planning or provoking another war.

Not Taking Chances
But Herve Aphan of France made clear that his oft-invaded country definitely is not going to take any chances.

He insisted that German heavy industry in the west be apportioned and reconverted in such a manner that victor nations entitled to German reparations are able to receive them.

In addition he emphasized that the German industrial problem was one that rightly should be dealt with by the council of foreign ministers. (Continued on Page Seven)

TOLEDO, O., July 19.—(INS)—Defective wiring was blamed today for an incubator igniting in Toledo Robinwood hospital last night and burning to death a day-old infant girl.

The victim was the tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Beryl Schowier of Toledo. The baby girl, prematurely born, weighed only one pound and eight ounces. She had not been named.

District Fire Chief Joseph Kenney said that the flames burned through the incubator to the oxygen feed, igniting the canvas covering which fell on the infant.

Boss' Alertness,
Length Of Rubber
Hose Saves Worker

PITTSBURGH, July 19.—(INS)—Eugene Rossey, 20-year-old Brackenridge laborer, owed his life to a section of rubber hose and the prompt action of his boss.

And Friday he was recovering from shock in the Allegheny General Hospital despite being buried alive for an hour and 40 minutes under a 20-ton slide of coal.

Rossey had been working on a coal pile at the Tarentum Products Co., at Tarentum, Pa., when he plunged 20 feet into a bin, causing the pile to slide over him.

His boss, J. V. Mason, saw the coal close in on Rossey, and grabbed an eight foot section of hose, thrust it into Rossey's hand and shouted for him to stick it into his mouth. It was no sooner done when more coal fell on him.

The breathing end of the rescue taken care of, Mason and other workmen hand shoveled the coal away in an hour and 40 minutes, removed Rossey from the death pit conscious.

"I thought I was a goner," Rossey said. "The hose slipped from my mouth just 10 minutes before they reached me."

Henry Home Kiddies
Lose Faithful Dog

Fifteen-Year-Old Pet Of Children
Brought To Home By Late
Margaret L. Henry

Brownie, the 15-year-old pet dog and mascot of the Margaret Henry Home on Friendship street, has died. Many sad faces and tear dimmed eyes appeared at the home Friday, when Mrs. Lida J. Green, matron of the institution, conveyed the news to the boys and girls who had grown to love and cherish the pet which had gone through thick and thin with them, whether in joy or sorrow.

The late Margaret L. Henry brought the dog, then just a pup to the home 15 years ago and down through the passing years. Brownie has always been a guard. At night, he slept by the door of the assistant matron, Miss Bertha Patterson, and if a child should cry, you would find old faithful right by that child's bed.

Mrs. Green says she will not get another dog for awhile as the children don't go on vacation very soon and she wants the children to select their own "Pal" when they are all home.

CONVICTED OF MURDER

TRINIDAD, Colo., July 19.—(INS)—Hugh T. Carter, Jr., of Round Hill, Va., was convicted today by a jury in Trinidad on a first degree murder charge which carries a sentence of life imprisonment.

Carter was accused of killing Harold B. Resch of Trinidad last Nov. 17. The shooting took place in a night club on the edge of the city.

IN THE OPEN

The water snake had traveled far from his usual haunts. The creek is some two hundred yards below the house and the closest marsh area is well below the line fence.

Apparently he had found good hunting in the grassroot jungles and had kept on traveling until he arrived on our front lawn. There he was promptly challenged by Laddie the collie.

It was shortly past the noon hour when Laddie set up the particular hue and cry that means "snake!" He has learned to the sound of work of garter snakes. These little fellows he stalks through the tall grass and then literally pounds the life out of them with his forepaws. He jumps clear of the ground and stamps down hard on the hapless snake with all his weight.

Different Proposition
The common water snake is an entirely different proposition, as Laddie soon found out. These fellows do not go around looking for trouble, but when it comes they meet it squarely. The dog had cornered the snake on the cement sidewalk and was circling for an opening to pounce in. The snake was circling too, and striking out savagely when Laddie came within range. After some minutes of this sparring neither had gained any advantage, and the dog was plainly puzzled.

Some snakes should not be killed, but the water snake is not one of them. While the battle was at its height I got a note from the cellar and put an end to the invasion of our lawns. The visitor was full-grown, heavy snake perhaps four feet long. The following day I massacred a large garter snake near the same spot.

J. Play Opened Spigot
Old Jupiter Pulvius opened the spigot during the afternoon and practically washed out my weekend ramble. I started out on a mid-July roundup with no definite objective. The first part of call was my favorite berrying ground, to check on the blackberry prospects and to cram myself with raspberries, which were hanging plump and black on the bushes. Some one has mended the fences surrounding the berry fields, and a herd of feeder steers is now engaged in obliterating the berry

Safeguard Jobs
On State Payroll
For Ex-Servicemen

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—Job security for ex-servicemen and women on the commonwealth payroll was safeguarded Friday by a formal opinion of the State Justice department.

The opinion, drafted by Deputy Attorney General Raymond Miller, emphasized that not only were veterans entitled to preference in filling public posts but the wives or widows of ex-servicemen.

The status of veterans on public payrolls during retrenchment was clarified by the opinion which held that veterans were entitled to have their years of army service added to civil or public service records to establish seniority.

Miller pointed out in the opinion that preferential public employment of veterans was a policy established following the revolutionary war.

The 10-point margin in examinations extended to ex-servicemen and women was upheld in the opinion as was the section of the civil service act of 1945 re-affirming the provision prohibiting appointing officials from withholding public employment from veterans lacking academic or scholastic training.

Contractors or sub-contractors working for the commonwealth shall give preferential treatment to veterans when filling jobs, the opinion emphasized.

Einstein Again
Gives His Views
On World Peace

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—Prof. Albert Einstein has told the American people once again that there is no defense against modern weapons of war, and that only a world government can guarantee peace.

The famous mathematician said on a nationwide (ABC) broadcast Thursday night that the United Nations must be transformed into a world government responsible only to the world's voters, and no longer controlled by national governments.

As a first step, he recommended support of resolutions introduced in Congress last week which call upon President Truman to strengthen the United Nations so it can have power to enact, interpret and enforce world law.

Prof. Einstein said that Russia's hatred of foreigners and her policy of isolationism is a problem. This is due, he explained, to the support by the western powers of anti-Soviet generals during the Russian civil war, to the long political and economic boycott against the Soviet Union, and to the "constant propaganda campaign of the foreign press against Soviet Russia."

But one thing is certain, he added: "Threats and intimidation are not a promising method to dispel distrust."

Prof. Einstein said the United States can help by showing that our concern is not the increase of national power but the security of all nations.

Clues Lacking In
Latest California
Woman Slaying

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 19.—(INS)—Lt. Ed Dieckman of the homicide detail admitted that not a single clue had been turned up in the "pick-up" ravish-slaying of Mrs. Marian Newcomb of Vancouver, B. C.

Mrs. Newcomb was found strangled to death with a wire in brush beside a bluff overlooking the ocean on the Torrey Pines mesa, four miles north of La Jolla, Cal. Dieckman said:

"All we know now is that she was picked up at a beer joint, taken out and killed. We have no clues so far to work on."

The body of Mrs. Newcomb was discovered by a couple walking in the area.

Dieckman said Mrs. Newcomb had been raped. He continued: "My men are trying to round up persons seen with her before she was picked up. So far we've had no luck."

The body of the 36-year-old woman was found fully clothed, with the clothing torn, after she had been reported missing by Mrs. Ray Hoffman of San Diego with whom she had been visiting.

Mrs. Newcomb had failed to return home Wednesday night. At the autopsy sole cause of death was reported to be strangulation with the wire.

Wood alcohol is known to chemists as methanol.

MISSION

WHOLESALE MURDER INC.
Immediately following the outbreak of war many holiness professors became inflamed by the cries of REVENGE! REVENGE! insomuch that they promptly ignore the Non-Resistance which Jesus taught His disciples to demonstrate when undergoing persecution. Jesus urged His followers to "return good for evil", "to LOVE instead of hate". Now get your Bible out and read these scriptures; Matt. 5:38-44; 6:14-15; 26:52. Mark 12:30-31. Luke 3:14; 9:51-56. John 18:36. Acts 7:54-60; 14:19-23; 16:20-25. 1 Cor. 13:4. Do you count it worthy to suffer? Acts 5:41; 1 Cor. 4:9-14. Today, the modern so-called Christian is armed to the teeth with deadly weapons of destruction to maim and kill the enemy. He is crowned a hero in his act of killing. I can imagine such so-called Christians awakening in the regions of Hell only to hear the enemies they murdered screaming: "YOU called yourself a Christian, but you slew me. Why, Oh Why didn't you LOVE me?" Again they scream: "I might have repented and would have been saved, but you killed me rather than be killed yourself. Now we are both LOST." Dear reader if you have been guilty of killing anybody or even participating in the wholesale butchery of human lives, then ask God NOW to forgive you. Promise Christ you never will be guilty of murdering your enemies again. The writer has known of "close preachers" stating that Christians should live-out the scripture Rom. 12 where it speaks against avenging personal wrongs, and in the next instant try to tell us that we should not be cowards, but take up arms and fight our enemies. This is the two-faced theory carnality offers. Yes, carnal folk use plenty of shot and shell, but the True Christian uses only LOVE as his weapon. Carnality will also use the Holy Scriptures Rom. 13:1-6 and 1 Peter 2:13-17 as a "cover-up" to justify their killings. Be sure to send for your FREE copy of "CAN A CHRISTIAN FIGHT" by O. B. ULERY. Southern Pacific Engineers Plan Strike Monday

SAN FRANCISCO, July 19.—(INS)—Southern Pacific Railroad company engineers will strike at 6 p. m. Monday despite intervention by President Truman.

Economic And Social Council Of UN On Spot

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 19.—(INS)—The fifth session of the United Nations Economic and Social Council opened today with the warning that it "must meet responsibility squarely or deteriorate into an ineffective, secondary instrument."

Dr. Jan Papanek of Czechoslovakia, the temporary chairman, told the delegates assembled around the large, semi-circular table that today, more than ever, the people all over the world who have put their faith in the U.N. to develop the basis of lasting peace "look to us to confirm this faith."

"We are accountable to them and also to those who have begun to doubt that the United Nations can solve the grave world problems existing."

Island Authority Okayed By Truman

WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—President Truman today approved the joint congressional resolution making United States authority over Pacific islands captured from the Japanese subordinate to final decisions of a United Nations trusteeship.

At the same time the chief executive nominated Admiral Louis E. Denfeld, commander of the Pacific fleet, as U. S. high commissioner for the trusteeship.

The president announced that the State Department will study proposed legislation for administration of the islands and will submit a plan for action at the next session of congress.

Mr. Truman's approval of the UN trusteeship terminated military government in the captured areas and delegated administrative authority to the navy until a civil administration can be set up.

stop the rebel. To head him off there was a long statistical speech on the Commodore Credit Corporation. And when this failed, a move to adjourn, which has the parliamentary right of way, was put. Morse took the unusual step of forcing a roll-call on it.

The things that Morse's Republican colleagues say about him in private could never be printed in the Congressional Record. The things that Morse says back about the Republican leadership are just as hard. Right now he is saying that the recent incident shows that the Republicans are stalling on veterans' legislation and that the veterans cannot look to the Republican party for protection of their rights. What is more, he plans to say these same harsh things on a cross-country lecture tour in the fall.

Not in a long time has the senate had such an interesting case-history in rebellion. Morse has none of the club spirit that tends to submerge personal antagonism even when men may differ in their opinions. His Republican colleagues call him, with various angry epithets attached, self-righteous, professorial, publicity-seeking, unco-operative, show-off.

Comes To Head

The Morse one-man rebellion came to a head during the struggle over the Taft-Hartley labor bill. In his academic career and through his experience on the War Labor Board, Morse has acquired a broad background on labor law and collective bargaining.

In the beginning he worked with Sen. Irving Ives of New York and others to modify the restrictions on rebellion. Morse has none of the club spirit that tends to submerge personal antagonism even when men may differ in their opinions. His Republican colleagues call him, with various angry epithets attached, self-righteous, professorial, publicity-seeking, unco-operative, show-off.

LOOKING AT LIFE

Don't misunderstand me. There are many fine people among those visiting diplomats and petty diplomats.

But, unfortunately, one bad person throws a bad light on thousands of his countrymen.

It is a well-known fact that people are too apt to forget much good for a little evil and that bad deeds always attract more notice than the good ones.

Diplomatic immunity, in my humble judgment, consists not of freedom from punishment but of not doing things that deserve punishment and ought to be punished, no matter who the offender.

one eye because when they were children another child let loose an arrow or fired a BB gun their way.

It is not enough that the child be supervised while using the bow and arrow or the BB gun. These weapons when not in use should be under the watchful eye of an adult.

Even if the child uses them with great care, other children not so trained might visit him and handle the weapons. In this direction the hazards are very great, indeed.

isters which meets in London in November.

This, of course, is precisely the way Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov feels for the Russians never have decided from their attitude that Germany must reimburse them in a very positive manner for war losses suffered at the hands of Hitler's Nazi Reich.

The differences of opinion that arose in Paris were for the most part academic. They occurred in the course of committee meetings which are designed to draft detailed schedules of resources and needs regarding all 16 participating European nations.

Germany's Status Injected

But the future status of Germany has injected itself inexorably since the day the Nazis capitulated.

There is nothing that will arouse a Frenchman's explosive ire more than the faintest suspicion that the Germans might be given an opportunity at some time in the even unforeseeable future to send a jack-booted army tramping over French soil again.

This sentiment persists despite a fervent desire on the part of all Frenchmen to cooperate with the Marshall plan for their own sake as well as that of Europe.

As on many occasions in the past, France may be the key to success or failure of the plan. Her communist leader, Maurice Thorez, whose violence is not without power, already has complained bitterly that the Paris conference and the inevitable inclusion of Germany have spelled the end of reparations.

Thorez of course hews to the Soviet line that Germany must produce chiefly for her victims instead of as an economic entity. Many indeed are the bridges that must still be crossed before a reconstructed Europe is more than a cherished dream.

Night Blooming Plant Gets Ready For Annual Show

Mrs. Michael LeLenko, 1108 Cunningham avenue, believes she has an unusual night blooming cactus or Cactus plant at her home.

The plant which has bloomed for the past five years in succession, is ready once more to present a gorgeous display. On the Fourth of July, Mrs. LeLenko reported that one flower blossomed on the plant and now there are nine that are ready to open up. The flowers will be at their prettiest on Sunday or Monday evening.

Some owners of the plants in the city report that they have had one for twenty years and have yet seen them in blossom.

Anyone wishing to view the unusual sight, is welcome to visit the home over the week end.

NEW YORK BUS MEN WALK OUT

NEW YORK, July 19.—(INS)—Nine hundred drivers and mechanics of two Queens bus lines went on strike early today, paralyzing one line completely and reducing the other to skeleton operation.

At 4:30 a. m., the strike paralyzed the Triboro Coach Corp., with a walkout of 325 drivers and maintenance men.

Half an hour later, it hit the Green Bus Lines, leaving them with only 50 non-union owner-driver and owner-maintenance men at work.

The strikers, members of the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric and Motor Coach Employees of America, are demanding a basic wage of $1.75 an hour to replace the hourly scale of $1.20 now in effect on the Green Lines and $1.13 on the Triboro.

State Promises New Mercer County Road By Summer Of 1948

SHARON, July 19.—Construction of the by-pass highway between Wheatland and West Middlesex, has been virtually assured by the State Highway Department for the 1948 program, it was announced today.

The state has promised to take over the project by January 1 and will advertise for bids as soon as a survey can be made of the proposed highway. The new road which will be 2.38 miles in length, will deviate slightly from the old street car line which formerly ran between Wheatland and West Middlesex.

The project will provide a level grade highway between the Shenango Valley and the main highway stem in West Middlesex.

What's The Matter with Pop?

Ever feel like a broiled lobster, dirty as a mud bank and touchy as a fire cracker after a hard, hot day at the office?

That's what's the matter with Pop.

Pop's just holding himself together until he can get to the shower and soak. But you should see him after he's cooled off. A lion could lie down with him, he's such a lamb.

A luke warm shower spraying over you for ten or fifteen minutes will help you to cool off and relax on a hot day.

Superior Court Opinions Given

City's Appeal In Sewer Connection Case Is Denied By Higher Court

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE

In an opinion handed down by the State Superior Court on Friday, the Lawrence County Court is upheld in the case of J. Clyde Gilfillan against the city. By the terms of the opinion and order Mr. Gilfillan is permitted to connect the sewer of five homes in Neshannock township to the city sewers.

The case originated over two years ago and arose over the claim of Mr. Gilfillan to the right of sewer connection from a home he was building in Neshannock township.

Old Agreement
Mr. Gilfillan had purchased a tract of land in the township, formerly owned by the Community Land Co. The taxes had become delinquent and the land was purchased at delinquent sale. It was found that during the corporate lifetime of the company an agreement had been made between the Community Land Co. and the city permitting the use of the city sewers.

Mr. Gilfillan claimed this right went with the title to the land. The city claimed it was not a permanent right but merely given to the then owners. One home was used as a test case but it was shown that four other homes were in the same position.

Judge John G. Lamoree heard the case and handed down an opinion upholding Mr. Gilfillan's claim, thus authorizing the use of the city sewers. This decision the city appealed to the Superior Court and Friday's opinion and order resulted. In the language of the order, "the decree is affirmed."

Another Case
Another opinion in a Lawrence county case resulted in the appeal being dismissed. This was the case of Marion and Ann Rotunno against Charles and Jennie Joseph. The plaintiffs claimed the defendants were using a portion of their land in the fifth ward.

The Lawrence county court ordered the defendants to desist. This order was appealed and the appeal has been dismissed.

MOTION DENIED
Judge W. Walter Braham on Friday refused the motion of Lester D. Goff for a new trial. Mr. Goff was convicted of practicing child pornography without a license. He moved for a new trial on the grounds that he had charged no fees and cited other reasons.

In his opinion and order Judge Braham said in part "the defendant presented an appealing case. Many intelligent and competent persons appeared for him apparently eager to tell of benefits received from the defendant's treatments. Nevertheless the command of the law must be respected." The motion is denied. This opens the way for an appeal to the appellate courts if the defendant so desire, and if there is no appeal, sentence will be passed.

INDEPENDENT CANDIDATES
In every primary election there is always talk by friends of candidates that "if our man doesn't win the party nomination he'll run independently." The fact is that no candidate who is defeated in a primary can enter the general election as an independent candidate. To run as an independent, a candidate must so announce before the primary.

For example, if Joe Doax decides to run as an independent candidate for council, or constable or anything else he may file a nomination petition so stating, but he must file it 20 days before the primary election.

In other words any person who is now a potential candidate as an independent will have to file his papers on or before August 19. This is nearly a month after the last day for filing nomination petitions by candidates. The difference is that a candidate files a nomination petition, the independent files nomination papers.

NO NICKNAMES

Another fallacy that has existed for several years is that a candidate can file his proper name and his nickname on the ballot. Actually you can't. Example, Joseph Q. Doax is known to his friends and acquaintances as "Okey." Ergo he files as a candidate for the nomination to an office on the ticket of his choice as Joseph Q. "Okey" Doax. This is not permitted. There was a time when it was done but actually it was in violation of the law. In order to be certain of his position in the matter W. A. Eakin, chief clerk to the commissioners and board of elections, asked Harrisburg for an opinion. The answer was that no nicknames can be used on the ballot.

Build Building Around Trees

LOS ANGELES, July 19.—(INS)—Usually a building is landscaped after it is built. Not so the World Headquarters building of the Rexall Drug Company in Los Angeles.

Before construction was started, trees, already had been planted. The new office building, a two-story concrete structure which stretches over three acres of land, was designed with four interior courts, or patios, each containing sub-tropical gardens complete with olive, elm and pepper trees.

Wanted Full-Grown Trees
Rexall wanted full-grown trees in these courts when the building opened so the landscape architect planted them on the court sites before construction started. Then the walls were erected around the trees. The trees, weighing six to 10 tons each, would have been too large to bring into the patios through the building's entrances.

FIND DROWNED BOYS

COLUMBIA, Pa., July 19.—(INS)—Two Columbia boys, missing from their homes five weeks, were found drowned Thursday in an abandoned water-filled quarry near Wrightsville.

They were Francis Rote, 11, and Gordon Ford, 13.

State Police Cpl. George Harleman of York said Rote's legs were wrapped around the other youth when their bodies were spied by two boys.

Harleman said it was assumed Rote, who could not swim fell into the quarry and had struggled with his companion when he came to the rescue.

THAT SESQUI-CENTENNIAL SOUNDS MIGHTY GOOD TO US

Congratulations to the American Legion Post, No. 343, American Legion, for sponsoring the Sesqui-Centennial celebration for New Castle in 1948. Sounds mighty good to us.

It's a job that calls for everybody's help and we would like to declare ourselves in on a share of it. New Castle has a fascinating history. We should tell the world about it in a celebration such as the Legion is planning.

In the space of time New Castle has been a settled community, transportation has come from the ox drawn cart to the modern motor truck. Like New Castle, transportation has a fascinating history.

It's Your Vacation

Don't spoil it with an accident. Safety is no accident.

"Pint-Sized" Females Can Hearten To New Fashions

NEW YORK, July 21.—(INS)—The pint-sized female who has to slip into the junior department of a department store to buy her size 10, or pay budget-slashing alteration charges in the women's section now can take heart.

At a luncheon today sponsored by the New York Fashion Institute for out of town fashion writers, 12 New York manufacturers showed "junior" dresses both for age and size.

Here's how the same basic dress or coat is being treated for "age" or "size". A swingback plaid coat with the tie-on hood was styled identically. But teen-agers can buy it in a bright plaid—red, navy and yellow.

For the older woman the same coat was done in muted shades of grey and wine. It was part of the Horwitz & Duberman collection.

Identical Dress

Joan Norton Irwin showed a nearly identical dress with the same thought in mind. Both dresses were of wool jersey with solid color tops and multi-striped skirt, the girlish type buttoned from a small collar to the waist.

The more sophisticated version had a plain bodice and high round neckline.

Babs Jr. displayed a sandstone wool jersey with built up pockets on the skirt for the junior. Modern Age showed a similar style with front-draped bodice and deep underarm long sleeves for her smallest mother.

Suits in the two groups, however, bore little similarity. Those for the teen-ager had shorter jackets, fuller skirts. For the older size 10, suits had cape-colored swagger coats and slim skirts.

In party clothes, the junior miss will have to content herself with modified drapes and less glitter than a similarly styled dress for her mother.

Young Pianists Of Five States Will Seek Award

PHILADELPHIA, July 19.—(INS)—Young men and women pianists in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland and Virginia, have the opportunity to win the greatest award ever offered in the musical history of the United States.

The award is offered by the Rachmaninoff fund, which is conducting its second contest to discover America's outstanding young pianist. The national winner will make four record sides for RCA-Victor, which will pay him $1000 in advance against royalties.

Contestants must be between 17 and 28. Persons who served in the armed forces may enter if they have not reached their 31st birthday anniversary. Candidates must be American citizens and are eligible regardless of race, creed or national background.

Applications should be made before September 1 to the fund's regional office at 1910 Girard Trust company building, Philadelphia.

A thin layer of plastic, less than a thousandth of an inch thick, will make paints stick better to a metal surface, chemists say.

Back Studying Figures Without Feminine Curves

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 19.—(INS)—Dapper Herman Howard, 47-year-old Perth Amboy, N. J., accountant and auditor, was back at his job of studying figures today—the king without feminine curves.

Howard's interest, the more curvaceous types of figures, cost him more than $100 earlier this week in Judge Winfield Smith's court in Wilmington, N. C.

Two pretty young women had taken the stand against him and testified how he lured them into his offices with a "help wanted" sign, and then proved more interested in legs than in office work.

Slender brunette Kathryn Hewitt, 19, told how Howard demanded to see her legs and told her he wanted to take her measurements with a tape measure. Blonde Rachel Blackburn followed Miss Hewitt to the stand to tell of being insulted when she applied for a job.

Howard's defense rested chiefly on a letter from the Furman Manufacturing company of Kansasburg, N. J., stating that he was acting in behalf of that company in seeking girls to model bathing suits.

Births Far Ahead Of State Deaths

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—The State Bureau of Vital Statistics reported today that births outnumbered deaths by more than two-to-one in Pennsylvania during March.

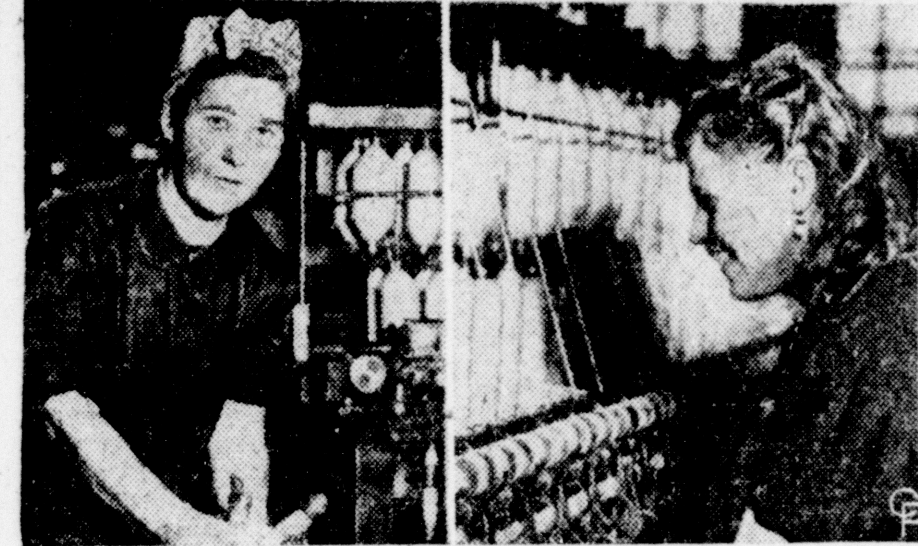

A total of 22,363 births were recorded against 10,442 deaths, a spokesman said. Of the total deaths, 629 were infants.

Heart disease caused more than one third of all deaths, statistics showed.

Causes of death in order were: Heart disease, 3,764; cancer, 1,177; strokes, 891; nephritis, 696; pneumonia, 491; tuberculosis, 325; childbirth, 26; whooping cough, 10; measles, seven; diphtheria, four; scarlet fever, three.

Two hundred and seven deaths were blamed on accidents in the home, the department said.

Army Fliers In Air Again Under Reserve Program

Hundreds Of Army Pilots Fly At Kentucky Base On 15-Day Summer Camp

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—Army fliers are flying again as hundreds of former army pilots, now air reserve officers, take to the air on 15 day active duty at Godman Field, Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The summer encampment training program of the Eleventh Air Force is under the direction of Col. John I. Moore, veteran flier who served in both wars. Air reserve officers and enlisted men who desire assignment to 15 days active duty should apply to the commanding officer of the nearest air reserve training detachment. Funds are available to train 1300 reserve fliers and 700 enlisted men, according to Major General Thomas J. Hanley, Jr., commanding general of the Eleventh Air Force at Harrisburg, Pa.

To be eligible for training, reserve officers must sign a certificate that they are not a member of the National Guard, are not drawing a pension of disability allowance from the government, Non-rated as well as rated officers may apply.

Those qualified will be ordered to active duty at one of the training periods beginning July 21, August 4, August 18, September 1 and September 15. Travel time will be allowed for travel to and from Godman Field and the officers will be paid in accordance with the regular army pay scale for their rank.

Organized classes will be devoted to subjects of timely interest. Basic military training will be kept to a minimum. Classes will emphasize the importance of the regular army and the reserve team in the maintenance of a strong air force. Enlisted men will form crews and perform squadron duties just as they did during the war.

AUTHORIZES EXPENDITURE WASHINGTON, July 19.—(INS)—The Senate armed services committee today authorized the expenditure of 225 million dollars on army construction projects in the continental United States and abroad.

The 100 million dollars authorized for work in the United States would cover improvements to bases throughout the country, including expansion of rocket experiment facilities at Alamo and White Sands Proving Grounds, N. M.

Report 590 Persons Killed On Highways Of State This Year

HARRISBURG, July 19.—(INS)—The State Bureau of Highway Safety reported today that 590 persons lost their lives in accidents on Pennsylvania highways during the first five months of 1947, a reduction of 133 over the same period last year.

Director T. E. Transeau said total included 316 deaths in rural area and 274 in cities.

Rural areas showed the highest reduction in fatal accidents. Transeau said, recording 113 deaths less than the first five months of 1946.

In urban areas, the reduction was 20 deaths. Pedestrian deaths numbered 291 for the first five months of the year, a reduction of 52 in comparison with 1946. The decline totaled 23 fatalities in rural areas and 29 in cities.

Transeau reported that incomplete records for June showed an upswing in the number of rural fatalities, with 77 recorded thus far. Incomplete reports from cities showed only 30 deaths for the month.

Transeau warned that in past years the number of highway deaths usually began an upward swing in June.

"Gasoline consumption had increased and so had the traffic volume in both rural and urban areas," he said. "Therefore, it is imperative that greater efforts must be made by all users of our streets and highways to drive and walk carefully."

Caravan Ready To Leave Laramie

PORT LARAMIE, Wyo., July 19.—(INS)—A 72-car caravan of automobiles, decorated with the super-structures of prairie schooner rigging and plywood oxen, was scheduled to leave historic Fort Laramie today to push westward.

The caravan is carrying 148 Latter Day Saints along the route their ancestors took 100 years ago from Nauvoo, Ill., to Salt Lake City.

The trek will move on to Independence Rock in Wyoming today. Sunday night's encampment will be at Rock Creek, near Rock Springs, and Monday's stopping place will be Fort Bridger.

The caravan will enter the salt Lake valley Tuesday, exactly 100 years after the vanguard of the first Mormon company arrived there in 1847.

Woman Fugitive Is Held In West

MANHATTAN, Mont., July 19.—(INS)—A 50-year-old woman fugitive—identified as Mrs. Bernice Charlat of Dover, N. H.—was held by FBI agents in Montana today after her arrest by a sharp-eyed agent.

Mrs. Charlat was nabbed by an unnamed operative who recognized her from a "wanted" bulletin as she passed in an automobile. Officers said she had escaped from Vermont women's prison during a flood at Rutland June 4.

Mrs. Charlat, said to have more than 100 aliases and a record dating back to 1927, was wanted in Denver also for the alleged theft of a car from her "husband-to-be". He reported he last saw her when she left their cottage camp rooms saying she was going to check up on the blood tests they had taken in preparation for marriage.

Hunt Man Seen With Woman Before She Was Murdered

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 19.—(INS)—A dark-haired man with whom Mrs. Marian Newton was reported to have danced with before she was murdered, was sought today by San Diego police.

The pretty, 36-year-old divorcee from Vancouver, B. C., was strangled to death early Thursday after being "picked up" in a downtown dance hall.

Mrs. Edna Mitchell, with whom Mrs. Newton went to the dance hall, told police that when she left the place the divorcee was dancing with the dark-haired man.

The victim's body, fully-clothed but with the clothes torn and in disarray, was found on the Torrey Pines mesa beside a bluff overlooking the ocean, some 20 miles north of San Diego.

Police Lieutenant Ed. Diekmann said that the case was another "bar-room pickup and murder" which followed the general pattern of eight other violent deaths to women in Southern California since the first of the year.

ABSOLVE WARDEN-GUARDS

BRUNSWICK, Ga., July 19.—(INS)—The warden and guards at Anguilla prison camp No. 1 near Brunswick, Ga., were absolved of any blame in the slaying of eight prisoners last Friday.

A 30-man Glyn county grand jury declared that the warden and the guards were just in their action.

"It would have been a very serious situation if gunfire had been withheld and one of these desperate criminals allowed to escape."

Bisque Warehouse First-Half Champs In Shepoco League

Bisque Warehouse Has Seven-Point Advantage Over Closest Rivals, Printers

Bisque Warehouse golf team is being congratulated today as champions of the first-half of the Shepoco Pottery Golf League at the Castle Hills course. The half ended Wednesday with the Bisque Warehouse in front of the second place Printers by seven points—33½ to 26½.

Members of the winning team are: Captain Bill Mancino, Al Christopher, Ralph Pia, F. Thomas, Joe Cooper and Jack Sheridan, all brilliant golfers.

Ralph Pia Medalist
Medalist Wednesday was Ralph Pia with a 38 card for the front nine. Other low cards were turned in by Chuck Perry 40, Al Christopher and Bill Mancino with 41's.

Following is the standing of the teams at the end of the first half: Bisque Warehouse 33½; Printers 26½; Laboratory 25½; Jigger Shop 23; Cup Shop 20½; Clay Shop Foreman 20; Bisque Kilns 19; Office 10; Decals 8.

The league misses its star performer Ange Cimino who is at present confined to the Crile Veterans hospital at Cleveland, Ohio. Cimino is captain of the Printers and his presence would likely have made a difference in the standing, but this is open to question by the Bisque Warehouse players.

Ready To Race At Canfield

All is in readiness for the season's 10th program of midweek auto racing at the Canfield Speedway tonight. Workers have swarmed over the speedway in an effort to get it into the best shape of the season. Rains early this week left several rough spots on the track, and the workers are giving the quarter mile oval a first-class manicure.

The track workers put the finishing touches on the speedway today, putting the track in tip-top shape for the big nine event program.

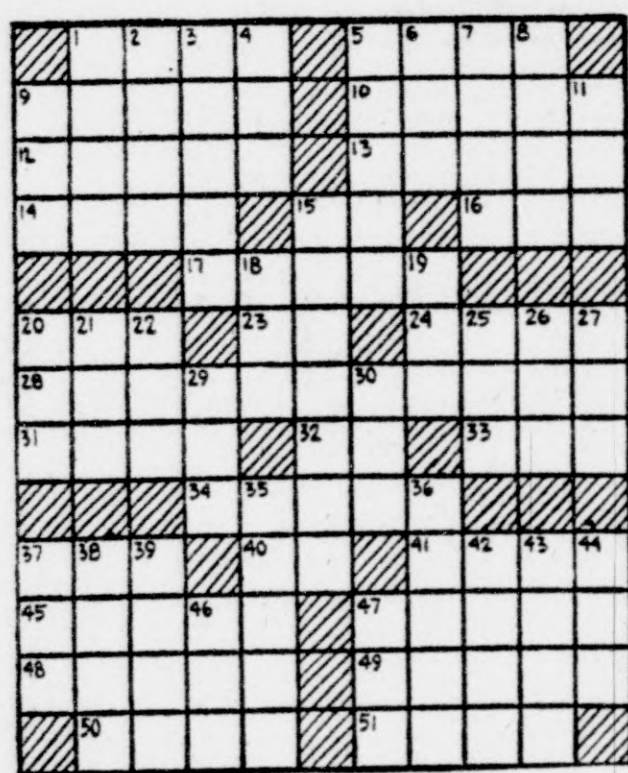

Time trials are scheduled for 7 p. m., and the first race scheduled to get under way promptly at 8:30 p. m. EST. Promoter Charley Pindley said this morning that the track will be given a clay treatment and that it would definitely be fast.

As Mr. McGiverly Says, Be Proud Of Your Truck

Horatius Q. McGiverly, (of the Spring Hill McGiverly's) is a proud sort of chap. He is proud of his family, proud of his car, proud of his friends.

Says he, borrowing a pipefull from one of the mechanics. "If I were a trucker I'd want to be proud of my truck and trailer. I'd want folks to know I had the best equipment money could buy.

"And, of course, I'd be driving a Federal truck with a Kingham or an American Bantam Supercargo Trailer. Anybody could be proud of that combination."

You can be proud of your equipment when you drive Federals. We have just what you need.

New Law Doesn't Effect Automatic Increase In Rents

Tenants Should Continue Legal Payments As Of June 30,
Director States

The new federal rent control law does not automatically increase rents, it was emphasized today by C. Howard McPeak, Area Rent Director of the Pittsburgh Area Rent Office. In response to a flood of inquiries from anxious tenants and some landlords, Mr. McPeak said tenants in controlled housing accommodations are to continue paying the legal maximum rent of June 30, 1947, and are to receive the same services and equipment furnished as of that date, until changed by an official order from his office.

Mr. McPeak explained that "If a landlord and tenant voluntarily and in good faith enter into a written lease on or before December 31, 1947, the Housing and Rent Act of 1947 provides that the rent may be increased by not more than 15 percent. In order for the lease to be valid it must be made effective after July 1, 1947, and must expire on or after December 31, 1947."

Must File Copy
A true copy of the lease signed by both the landlord and tenant must be filed with the Area Rent Office within 15 days after the lease is executed, together with three copies of a form called "Registration of Lease". Landlords may secure the "Registration of Lease" form from the Area Rent Office. Every rent lease filed with the Area Rent Office is carefully examined and if found to be in order is retained and a copy of the form "Registration of Lease" is mailed to both the landlord and tenant.

Mr. McPeak also made it clear that a tenant's refusal to sign a lease does not constitute a ground for eviction and stressed that the new law includes specific protection against eviction. "In general," he said, "a tenant who continues to pay the rent to which the landlord is entitled has no more reason to fear eviction now than before."

HARVEY J. MARTIN

This December, Attorney Harvey J. Martin will be only one year shy of the half-century mark in the practice of law in Lawrence county. Admitted to the bar in 1896, he has the distinction of being the oldest lawyer in point of service in the County Association, and can look back upon a long period of valuable service in his profession.

Mr. Martin was born September 16, 1871 in Wilmington township, the son of William C. and Emma Humphrey Martin, both well-known families of the county. His father and mother are both deceased.

He was graduated from Volant college, being one of the first students to attend the school. He later attended Westminster college after which he took up the practice of law in New Castle.

As did many fledgling attorneys at that time, he embarked on his career under the tutelage of Judge J. Norman Martin, his uncle, since retired from active practice.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD July 19.—(INS)—Esther Williams and her hubby, Ben Gage, finally are building the hide-away they've always wanted.

It's a gorgeous Acapulco in Mexico.

Esther was all enthusiasm when she told her reporter about it on the set of M-G-M's "On An Island With You".

"It's on a cliff with steps leading down to a private beach," she said, "it's only six hours by air, so that makes it very convenient."

"It was cheap, too. The land cost us about $5,000 and the house will cost us only about $4,000. You can't beat that, can you?"

"We had been planning to build up here, but when we compared the costs here and at Acapulco, we decided to build down there."

Frank Sinatra's work schedule is getting a bit crowded. He's not yet finished in "The Kissing Bandit", but "The Miracle of the Bells", in which he plays the priest, is now under way.

Said Frank: "I'm trying to arrange it so I can get at least a few days off before starting the other picture. There's plenty to be shot in which I don't appear so I don't think there should be any difficulty."

"I want to fix it so I can get at least a couple of days of good solid sleep."

On another sound stage Van Johnson was happy that he's probably going to be a very busy man for the rest of the year.

Now in the midst of "Vivacious", he had just received the script of another picture which may follow it.

"You know me!" said Van, "there's nothing I like better than work."

Your reporter hopes Herbert Marshall gets through his present sequence in "The High Wall" without getting a broken nose or having his teeth kicked out.

The scene, which takes place in a mental institution, has "Bart" on the floor with Bob Taylor trying to choke him.

Then two burly attendants grab Bob by the arms and swing him into the air, fighting, over Marshall's form.

On the rehearsals, Bob's feet seemed to barely skim Marshall's face.

"I hope nothing bad happens," Bob said.

There's lots of violent action, too, on the set of "Killer McCoy" in which Mickey Rooney plays a boxer. They're filming one of three fight sequences in the picture. There's an audience of hundreds.

Mickey is giving a good account of himself.

CARELESSNESS CAUSE OF MOST ACCIDENTS

Carelessness, some of it induced by fatigue, causes most farm accidents. National Farm Safety Week, July 20 to 26, is intended to help reduce the number of injuries resulting from farm work.

The safety week observance, probably was fixed for mid-July to coincide with the harvesting season when the farm accident rate reaches its peak. The increasing trend to mechanization of the farm and the temptation to operate machinery at top speed combine to multiply hazards and accidents.

But machines can be operated safely if proper precautions are taken. Carelessness begins when these machines are operated at excessive speeds or under conditions which do not permit the operator to have full control over them.

"Take Time To Be Safe" is always a good slogan, and especially on the farm during the harvest season. Accidents can be fatal, and too often are. In fact in 1946 a total of 18,500 persons were killed in the United States in farm accidents. Thousands more were injured.

The accident toll, even where fatalities are not involved, always more than nullifies momentary "gains" achieved by taking unnecessary risks. Most losses from accidents can never be measured fully, especially if they bring bereavement or suffering. The homely, oft-repeated "ABC" advice on safety—"always be careful"—never was more timely than during the current harvest season.

Machinery operated for long periods of time without rest or regular servicing can deteriorate rapidly and become unsafe. And men, even more than machines, become easy prey to accidents hazards through fatigue. "No one can afford to be about machinery, let alone operate it, unless he is fully alert at all times," is a statement made by safety engineers.
